Term	Definition	Example from Lyrics	Difficulty	Play
échalopa' allá cast it away	"Echar" means to throw or cast. "Pa'" is a common colloquial shortening of "para" (for/to). "Allá" means there or over there. The phrase "echar pa' allá" means to cast something aside, get rid of it, or send it away, often used for bad energy or problems. It's a very common, informal expression.	"Oh my God" "Oh my God" ir a mí go for myself / pursue my own path	The literal translation is "I go to myself." However, in this context, "yo voy a mí" is an idiomatic expression that means to be self-focused, determined to achieve one's own dreams, or to pursue one's personal goals without distraction. It implies a strong sense of self-reliance and ambition.	"Solo recuerdos habitan en mí" "Only memories dwell within me"
